

Battle of Yorktown

Michael

George Washington: Alright men this war has gone on for 7 years this is our last push. Now Lafayette I want you and your troops to move from the left.

Lafayette: Oui monsieur

George Washington: Me and my troops will move to the right. This is it men; This is our last step to freedom.

Start fighting

George Washington: Push Forward!

Lafayette: Faire avancer!

Keep fighting

George Washington: Now men, the trenches are about 150 yards away keep pushing we will be able to win this war!

George Washington: We have them surrounded!

George Washington: Fire the cannons!

BOOM

Unknown Individual: Our boats have been Destroyed

Cornwallis: There is no way out of this one...

George Washington: Keep pushing men!

switch to Knox

Knox: I admit we have been defeated by the great America. What a glorious day! Today Lord Cornwallis and his army have marched out. Yesterday I was thinking about surrendering but Lord Cornwallis said no. We have decided to surrender all prisoners of war but will be kept until we have our troops back. Last thing, I would like to schedule a meeting so that we could discuss the surrender. Thanks again, Knox.

switch back to Washington

George Washington: We have done it my fellow americans! We have won our freedom. Now lets create a new government and rejoice.
Now who will lead this government?

Lafayette: I think that you should Sir.

George Washington: Me? No, I could never be a leader...
